timeline, future, story, event, technology, humans, present, years, ETs, document, J Rods, consciousness, brainwaves, portals, disclosure, evolution

[Note of the transcriber: I have followed closely the events surrounding Looking Glass ever since 2007. As these events matured through the years, the cumulative support of factual evidence and the considerable range of credible supportive testimonials has grown substantially. However, the overall global importance of these events is emerging only now. This 45-minute report is the most perceptive summary and suggestive demonstration I am aware of (2023). It is worth every detail of your close examination. I have rounded off and completed many sentences for clarification.]

Frank Jacob

So I'm going to talk about timelines, what has been said, the timelines that we're living in today, and most importantly, how we have a direct influence on them through our thoughts and our actions and our beliefs.

What I'm talking about is kind of a small taste of something that Elon was alluding to, a story that I ended up calling a "Tale Of Two Timelines", which was a webinar that goes deep into the story of project Looking Glass. It covers some of the topics that I'll be going into today, and maybe a little bit more detail than we have time for today.

So you know, I find some of the stuff that direction that I'm going into tonight a little bit unusual or surprising. And I hope it causes a little bit of cognitive dissonance, because we're going to be looking at some history, because history has a lot to do with the way timelines are shaped.

And the actual Looking Glass device that I'm talking to about, this is what it looks like.

I thought I'd give you a quick view of it, before we go deep into it.

And I have actually the honour tonight of having Dr. J.J. Hertog in the audience, who is somebody this is a secret space technology, could say, a secret government technology expert. And Dr. Hertog is personally familiar with that information.

Dr. J.J. Hertog

I had the opportunity also to work with Dr. Elizabeth Rauscher. Very close to our speaker, Frank and myself.

And my wife after Deseret, we put together a book called "Mind Dynamics and Space and Time", which is the real exile story from Stanford Research Institute. Elizabeth wrote over 450 scientific papers and would have received the Nobel prize had she lived long enough.

The bottom line is, I knew back in the 1980s, in areas of parapsychology and current physics, there was always the possibility of going forwards and backwards of time, to mind projection. And I heard the story, although I never saw this imprint. And so what I'm saying is really secondary. But I heard this from top scientists in the upper 1% of Silicon Valley, that there were individuals who are able to go back in time and look at historic events.

And these individuals were blessed through contact experience, but we will now call the whole ET district "extraterrestrials". And this in a way gives me a sense of the importance of what Frank is going to present at this time. This is a worldwide recognition that there are top American scientists who know about timeline conversion, other evolutionary intelligence being able to interconnect with us, not only at this point of human history, but to give us an insight through technology. They have to look back to our time.

And what impressed me [came to me] from the Air Force. The officer who talked to me was [that they] they had a device [capable of] ETs sharing with the Americans to look back in time when they could actually see the crucifixion of Christ. They actually saw this event, and moving forwards with my work on the Shroud of Turin, with NASA scientists at Jet Propulsion Lab.

And things that I can share with you privately regarding the experience of the historic progress, making me feel with great wonder and humility, that there were those who came from the future here to show us that we're all on the cusp of space and time. And our purpose of evolution through spiritual endowments is to take our consciousness, also costs into the future.

This is the time of graduation. Out of the different timelines that have been confused? Thank you.

Frank Jacob

Thank you, J.J. Okay, we're done!

Now, that's an excellent little introduction. And I think I can cover a lot of that, or back it up, let's say, with respect to this particular time viewing device.

It works in conjunction with not only mechanical process, but in a proximity of something called stargates, which are both artificial and natural. They're all around the world. This device was used essentially to identify in the time stream that was projected within sort of a plasma ball. And in 3d holographic fashion key events, people and places that impact important historical timelines.

And then, the people who were working with the technology began to mess with these timelines. And you know, approaching people are trying to manipulate events. And then that causes paradoxes to unfold. Some of you might know me, because of a story I broke last March concerning something called "The Guardians Of The Looking Glass".

How Frank Jacob got involved

And that's really what led me to actually being here today into actually even going into this topic, because it was Tanya, who introduced me to the looking glass technology at the very beginning when we started working on her film "Packing for Mars", and even the Corona Visor<sup>1</sup>. But I never thought I would, you know, it didn't relate to Mars or the film Mars. And I never would have thought that, you know, 10 years later, I would happen to just by total pure accident stumble on this story. And I wrote that I wrote up that story, and it went viral. And here I am.

The Looking Glass technology

So anyway, back to the looking glass.

Basically, what we had here is a technology that was built, and which would give those people who operated that technology, of course, a huge advantage over people who didn't have the technology because they could see and view timelines within a stream within a field of this object that was placed at this one of these portal points where these energy vortex points are on the planet.

And, you know, the awareness of this technology came to us through a search through a certain whistleblowers starting about was a 10, 10, 11, we're actually maybe 15 years ago, you could say. And one of them was a guy by the name of Dan Burish, who went into some detail about how that technology was acquired.

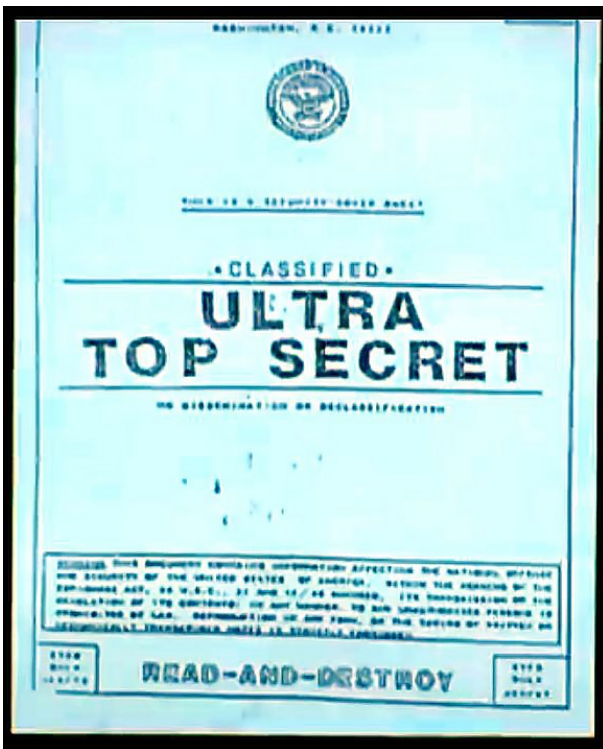

And essentially, it starts at the end of the Second World War. So starting in the late 1940s. It was the first time that the United States ever came into contact with certain ETs, you could say, who began appearing over the skies of the United States. And their appearance, again, was accompanied by crashes and captures of both the craft and the pilots piloting that craft.

And it leads directly to the formation that Richard Dolan calls "the breakaway civilization", which is arguably that which was created by one ultra ultra secret society, that was called "Majestic 12". You know, it's they who have ultimately come into possession of the Looking Glass material, and time travel and other technologies ever since.

And in 1963, afterward, they formed another group of umbrella group called the "Committee of the Majority". And they, you know, did this because they spread to an international level, because they also heard that the Russians were in touch with these ETs as well. And they were trying to keep it contained and formed treaties with these, with these beings. And thus came about that other umbrella organisation.

<sup>1</sup> "From the 1960s until the 1990s, Father Pellegrino Ernetti claimed that he helped create a time machine called the Chronovisor, which he used to observe the crucifixion of Jesus Christ." <https://allthatsinteresting.com/chronovisor>

But the reason that this document is so valuable is because it's been authenticated by forensics experts. So it makes it one of those foundational documents or sources that we know and we can trace. I thought it was interesting, because I didn't really pay much attention. I actually had a copy of it in my archives, and only rediscovered it after I started working on the webinar for "A Tale of Two Timelines".

And I remember Richard Dolan telling us a story about how he had been briefed by a CIA insider who was present in 1977, when President Jimmy Carter was briefed about the existence of these craft and these pilots. When he talks, you know, an interesting story about how Carter was sitting there sobbing with his head in his hands. But here it was, that document came full circle, and I was suddenly working with it, relative to the Looking Glass information.

So it's interesting things. So comes the full circle. So between 1947 and the early 50s, there were a series of crashes that took place, not just one, and they started the whole back engineering process. And in the end, they had up to seven, I believe, UFOs. And they also had captured extraterrestrial beings. And they ended up being put into an area called area 51, which we all know, and the Looking Glass has ended up in that as well and area S for area 51. And was all classified into the strictest levels of secrecy, of course, until they figured out who they were dealing with.

Real origins of recovered ETs

And what they really discovered in principle is that the ETs are not really truly ETs technically speaking, there are us, and it was us from the future. The captured aliens that they had found, they called them "J Rods", came from Zeta Reticuli... just what we are going to colonise in the future. That's their past.

And they travelled back 52, 40, 50'000 years respectively, to exactly before this time before this event takes place, for different reasons. And it's interesting because looking at Turnebro's (?) timelines again, you can see that in 1949 is another event in the timeline that takes place.

So it's interesting how that all coincides. One of the things that I always tried to look for is, you know, when you only have one source of information, it might be interesting, but it's much more interesting if there's another backup source that verifies it. And even better if there's a third source that will confirm that there was something happening around this time to change the timelines.

J Rods – three types that got "stranded", each in their own way

So what they found was that there are three types of beings, there were two J Rods, which were called P 52s, the P 50. "Twos" were 52,000 years in the future. And the P 45s were from 45,000 years in the future. And the P 45s were kind of split into two groups, there were the Neutral P 45s, and there were the Rogue P 45s. And the P 45s weren't interested in helping us, they were just here to harvest genetic materials which they had lost over the course of 10s of 1000s of years of exposure.

And their 7000-year descendants, the P 52s also returned because I guess they must have developed empathy in oh, 7000 years.

But they came back and they were trying to tell us how to how our consciousness can affect our timeline. It can affect even not just the timeline, but also cosmic events. They were trying to tell us that the cosmic event – which is about to happen – can be affected by our collective consciousness. It was a revolutionary idea. Of course, back in those days, probably people were having a hard time swallowing that. But they were essentially telling us that it's going to play out in two ways.

Timelines

And we'll get into a little bit more detail.

But they were saying that it could end up with a timeline that prevails, that's an organic timeline, where mankind will begin to wake up, and en masse, and will interfere with the agenda that's being driven by those who'd like things to go their way. And that we will change the trajectory of that course, by raising our consciousness.

And then there's going to be some event and our change in consciousness will actually set in motion a positive version of how that event affects us. It'll create a virgin, new timeline that no one's ever experienced before.

So I found that interesting, because we've also heard about ancient civilizations, like Atlantis, or Memoria, or Mu. And, you know, they come and go, they always seem to end in some huge cataclysm or some destruction, some destructive event happens, society blows up. It's like a loop, another time loop.

And it seems to me like, I can't imagine, an infinite, a universe with infinite possibilities wouldn't be limited to such a stupid loop, eventually, it would have to crack that loop. So maybe here is the chance to actually break that loop.

And the other timeline they were talking about that may prevail is, of course, the one that I'm describing as the transhumanist timeline. You know, I had to keep control of the narratives.

Desinformation

Another interesting point, that factor that comes out in this document, we don't have really time to go through much of it.

But there's a General Nathan Twining, who had a role in Majestic 12, to keep charge of keeping a lid on the subject of dissemination of the reality of this interaction with these ETs, which are future humans. And the way he would do that was by disseminating fake UFO narratives, fake alien narratives, into the scene of a burgeoning young UFO scene that was starting in the 50s.

And so you can imagine, like all those stories that you'd hear about with the two headed alien babies and stuff that you're standing at the cashier register to the Enquirer there, those were all kind of the result of the genius work of, you know, General Nathan Twining. Twining was the guy in charge of the US bombing campaign over Germany. So it's all in the family. And he was also in charge of Project Grudge and Blue Book, which are also these are all sort of disseminations or marketing versions of stories to keep the population in the dark about these things.

That brings us to now. So that's kind of the history of how we got here and how that Looking Glass technology emerged.

Origins of looking glass technology

I guess I could add a couple sentences about that the J Rods told us about where to find that technology.

It comes from the Middle East. And in the Middle East, there are particular portals. And some of those portals are unnatural. They're artificial portals that were created by ETs. And when they found the blueprints, which is what they were looking for, which what they were told would be there.

They built those blueprints. And that's how those machines came about. And I think they built them over multiple decades until they finally ended up in the 90s with a workable model that I showed you there.

So along comes 2022. And it's been like 10 years since the last Looking Glass. Whistleblowers had been out there talking about a Den Boris and a few others of... Bill Wood, and for example, Bill Brock Braider.

But then suddenly appeared this group calling themselves "The Guardians of the Looking Glass". And I don't know how I found it. But it was a total fluke, I was on some Telegram channel scrolling through, which I normally don't do because it's just mayhem. But for some reason, I was looking for a particular story with respect to the Ukraine war, actually. And there was something that popped up, it said, "The Guardians of the Looking Glass", and I'm like, oh, I know what's the Looking Glass. So I clicked on and I landed on this YouTube page.

At the time, there were only two videos, and about 70 clicks, nothing nothing was going on. And I clicked on the first video, and it said, "We are The Guardians of the Looking Glass. We're a group of former intelligence officers and military officials who have come together to release classified information about future events to come. Our knowledge comes from our work on the Looking Glass artefact first discovered in Iraq, along with other discoveries in the 1990s."

During this time, the artefact was activated by the US military and connected to computers. They were able to see dozens of future timelines and the convergent convergence or singularities that lead to two possible outcomes by the year 2030.

Two outcomes

And in one outcome, humanity awakens, and the current orders are dismantled. And an event occurs and instead of this – this event being negative – it is a positive one.

In the other outcome, the current structure remains in place, a nuclear war takes place along with many horrible events, then the event occurs. And instead of being a positive event, it's a negative one.

So I immediately, goosebumps, you know, like you know. Thinking back on what I was just telling you about what the J Rods talked about decades earlier. Suddenly they come and they're mirroring this information. And that for me, just the whole Looking Glass thing, and the year 2030, that number keeps coming up. You know, we know about Agenda 21. And actually 2030 is one of those key years of Agenda 21. So all these things made me sit up and take notice.

The Transhumanist Agenda

And you know, I started looking around at what else was going on. And you know, there's one person that now pretty much personifies the transhumanist agenda. His name is Yuval Harari, and he's Klaus Schwab's future prophet. And he has a saying on his website that summarises their belief system. It says that "History began when humans invented gods and will end when humans become gods". So thinking back on the P 45s aligning with this deep state, you know, I mean, that's what they believe.

They believe that their gods are in a sense, you know, and a different way, mind you then. Of course, we are in a sense "creator gods", but they're talking about materialistic values. So they're talking about another form of godhood. And they've even got a formula for it. I mean, he calls it biological knowledge times compute power times data is the ability to hack humans [see schema below].

So this is the direction this embodies in a formula the direction that they're taking us they're calling it, you know. And they want to seduce us with their fantasies of total surrender to their digital technocracy.

Transhumanist Agenda Example

These are things you can find directly on the website of the World Economic Forum. You don't even have to look too far. You know, I know it says, "I know that somewhere, everything I do, and think and dream of is recorded".

Sounds like science fiction, right? Except it isn't just a couple of weeks ago, the World Economic Forum had a meeting. And in that meeting, there were a lot of like here. We have these little workshops and things. Well, there's a workshop similar to here, there.

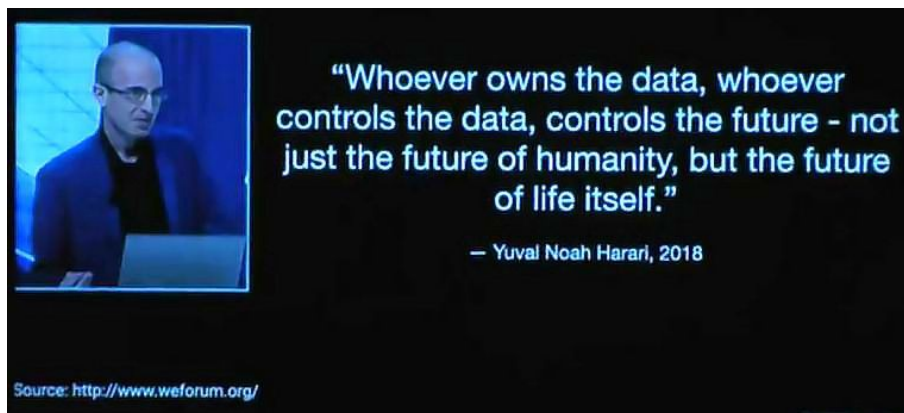

And they presented something they called Brain Transparency. And this cartoon you see here, which I'm not going to labour it. I'll just tell you what it was about. It essentially describes technology, which the woman who presented the video keeper came on on stage after the show. This set already exists.

And in that video, it's talking about how the person sitting in front of their work desk, their computer has, essentially a communication using brainwaves to their monitor. And they're worried, of course, that their boss is going to pick up the thoughts they're having about one of their colleagues.

And you know, and then there's a final scene in the cartoon where she comes back to work and there's FBI and CIA agents, and they're hauling one of her one of our fellow employees off in handcuffs, because his brainwaves indicated that he was colluding with others to defraud the company. And it was all sold under the promise of it's going to cut down on crime, of course, because in this new world, yeah, it's really good.

And this new world, it's all going to be sanitised. No more crime, everyone's brainwaves to be monitored, so there'll be able to preempt any crime. And the last scene shows them grabbing all the boxes, because then they'd be able to use the brain wave data to see who's synchronised, who's in resonance with the criminal that they've already busted.

Yeah, so you know, they want to quantify us. Yeah. And his saying is, whoever owns the data, whoever controls the data controls the future. Sounds a bit like that. George Orwell quote from before, right, not just the future of humanity, but the future of life itself.

Doctrine of Convergent Timeline Paradox – DCTP

So the crazy part is that all of this information, and this history was already documented and described in the interactions between J Rod and Dan Burish and is documented in something called the Doctrine of Convergent Timeline Paradox.

So I want to take a little bit more of a dive into this doctrine, this DCTP, as they call it, you know, because it goes into the specifics on these two factions that are warring it out, over whether we have a positive or a negative experience, relative to an "impending cosmic event" .

And whether there is even "a cosmic event"<sup>2</sup>.

Because all these things, like I was saying, you don't have much to go on if you just have one source. But if you begin to look at that information and find clues to whether that information could have some substance to it, some remarkable things began popping up. And you know, this document basically emerged from the communications with Dan Burisch and the J Rod called Key Hilah.

2 [The DCTP 41 names it squarely: "catastrophic pole shift"]

It starts off that it says, you know, the doctrine, the DCTP is a doctrine of human races, with probable competing paths: Observer, Relative Present and Probable Futures.

A limited, save-your-skin solution

And there's a section 40 that says, it makes a clear distinction between the materialists who don't care to help humanity make the transition to a new timeline. It says, "the DCTP suggests, the service to self, expediency, 'Logic Camp', is uninterested in our new future timeline and prefers its fate, just using us as a free resource for achieving their ends for an evolutionary uplift. And as such could care less if we still hit the catastrophe that befell them. These are the Illuminati linked rogues."

[Text: "40. The DCTP suggests the service-to-self expediency logic camp is uninterested in our new future timeline and prefers its fate, just using us as a free resource for achieving their ends for an evolutionary uplift, and as such, could care less if we still hit the catastrophe that befell them – these are the Illuminati linked Rogues."]

And those who see the return to the future human J. Rod as a means to avert the looming cataclysm, and state that our consciousness and level of spiritual service to others mentality as a direct influence on the universe also said something.

The service-to-others compassion camp

In the next paragraph, it's listed, it says the DCTP suggests that "in contrast, the service-to-others compassion camp is very interested in optimising how this reverse time emigration of future humans can also incidentally help to both (1) avert the precedent catastrophic pole shift future that happened for them, and (2) provide a disclosure of the 2012."

Okay, back then, they were just at the cusp of 2012. But you know, since we don't really know what year we are in truly, you could replace 2012 with 2030 and it makes just as much sense.

"Provide a disclosure of the 2012 event potentials in a way that can spiritually reinforce a more optimal evolutionary fate for present era humans. And this human group is comprised of the non rogue future humans who are working with the present era faction known as the Magi."

[Text: "41. The DCTP also suggests, that in contrast, the service-to-others compassion camp is very interested in optimizing how this reverse time emigration of the future humans can also incidentally help to both (1) avert the precedent catastrophic pole shift future that happened for them, and (2) provide a disclosure of the 2012 event potentials in a way that can spiritually reinforce a more optimal evolutionary fate for present era humans. And this future human group is comprised of the non-rogue Altire humans - who are working with the present-era faction known as the Maji."]

Then it goes on in paragraph 50. This is consistent with a deep states' desire to keep us in the dark. The rogue faction P 45s are definitely not interested in helping us. "The DCTP suggests that the rogue J Rods are against disclosure of the situation in any manner that would promote present day human species enlightenment, as this enlightenment provides human conscious souls freedom from their plans to continue to manipulate their ancestors after fashion, to be an expedient resource for their own upliftment."

[Text: "50. The DCTP suggests that the Rogue J-Rods are against disclosure of the situation in any manner that would promote present day human species enlightenment, as this enlightenment provides human conscious souls freedom from their plans to continue to manipulate their ancestors, after a fashion, to be an expedient resource for their own upliftment ends."]

And this document was written probably between 30 and 50 years ago, even the formulation of the sentences is a kind of language that only really fits into our present time.

And, okay, the manipulation they're talking about extends into all forms, of course, including, you know, working with their ally Illuminati, to suppress and control information flow, and the media, of course.

The Positive Side

So what we also need to talk about which I don't want to leave you guys on a negative note. So the last bit of this workshop, I'm going to talk about what we can do about it. And that's got to do with the positive timeline, because it's not just negative. We have an opportunity here. And I'm going to show you what those opportunities are. And it's supported by what's going on around us in the physical world. The J Rods, you know, they told us that basically, they were talking about these two primary timelines. So this ultimate showdown is happening.

So let's look again at a couple of excerpts in the Doctrine Of Conversion Timeline Paradox. It says in paragraph 4, "the DCTP suggests that there is a future where a possibly pole shift-related environmental catastrophe is averted, and does not happen. And relative to this different timeline, the future that generated the J Rods as we know them will never evolve from our own, and we have taken a new path."

So in a way, they will become extinct. And the very fact that the J Rods are here means that the last time around, we obviously blew it. So but we have another chance, which is the way the cosmos I guess works this loop, which we want to get out of.

[Text: "4. The DCTP suggests there is a future where a possibly pole-shift-related environmental catastrophe is averted and does not happen, and relative to this different time line, the future that generated the J-Rods as we know them will never evolve from our own, and we have taken a new path.]

Critical Potentials

And so in this timeline, which also the Guardians saw, there is the probability of that happening and so they talk about that as well. And here's paragraph 64 of the DCTV.

It says, "the DCTV suggests that if the post global pole shift environmental catastrophe does not occur, and that there are significant positive effects reaped from the natural Stargate activation period."

Remember we're moving in space around us we have on our planet, and around in the immediate space outside of our planet we have these energy vortices, these portals. So those portals actually serve a purpose. They are energy conductors.

It says "the benefits could be to alternatively produce a human consciousness, liberating evolutionary leap frog and a level of enlightenment among the masses that will produce a new set of future timeline trajectories that will compassionately steer the course of humanity into a virgin future of untold beneficial futures and heights. In fact, to fulfil the original evolutionary directive to evolve consciousness of humanity to its optimum potential as future creative agencies in the universe."

[Text from DCTV 64: "The DCTP suggests that if the post global pole shift environmental catastrophe does not occur, that there are significant positive benefits reaped from the natural stargate activation period. The benefits could be to alternatively produce a human consciousness liberating evolutionary leap frog, and a level of enlightenment among the masses, that will produce a new set of future timeline trajectories that will compassionately steer the course of humanity into a virgin future of untold beneficial futures and heights, and in fact fulfill the original evolutionary directive to evolve the consciousness of humanity into its optimum potential as future creative agencies in the universe.]

So it's telling us that we have a chance to break the cycle.

And the way I see it, it's like, you know, if we look at ourselves as connected to the universe, the universe wants to make this leap too, why wouldn't it? It would want to experience everything we experience and more? And so these messages that we got from these J Rods decades ago, are trying to reinforce that idea. Maybe the reason this came up now is because we're kind of at that last moment where we could make it happen.

Last opportunity

[Text from DCTV 64: "The optimal future timeline is the timeline where all the problems were solved, not avoided. The irony is that the timelines where the huge problems are avoided and ignored or covered up are the timelines that run into serious problems. Creating something wonderful requires waking up and getting to work, not expecting someone or some spiritual agency to fix it for you. For this reason it is asserted that some disclosure of the hidden truth of our situation occur. As a species, if we can wake up to and recognize what is at stake, we may change the course of the future the DCTP fears will transpire."]

So it says "the optimal future timeline is the timeline where all the problems were solved, not avoided. The irony is that the timelines where the huge problems are avoided and ignored or covered up, or the timelines that run into serious problems, creating something wonderful, requires waking up and getting to work, not expecting someone or some spiritual agency to fix it for you, like the White Hats. For this reason, it is asserted that some disclosure of the hidden truth of our situation occur as a species, if we can wake up to and recognise what is at stake, we may change the course of the future, the DCTP fears will transpire."

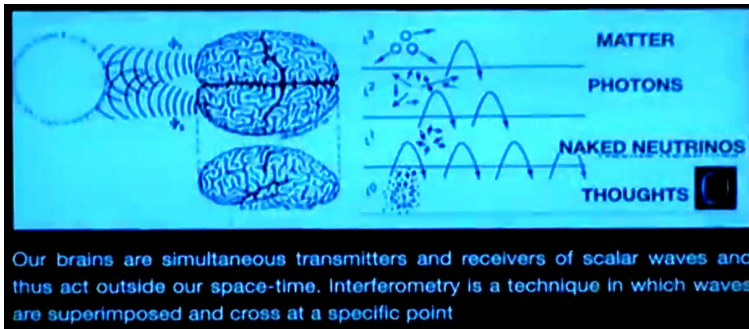

So it's really telling us that I mean, the disclosure is what we're doing here.

This is disclosure. The fact that we're getting together at Conscious Life Expo and so many people are exchanging ideas. And ironically, outside of us these weird UFO sightings are taking place. It means that consciousness is reaching a place where these ideas are breaking into our reality, and we just need to channel them in the direction that is for them.

Quantum Space Masers, 150 Megahertz and DNA

For our positive future, our brains are functional interferometers, that means that we are able to simultaneously transmit and receive scalar waves, which act outside of the dimensions of space time. So the universe as one great hole could actually communicate from us to with us from outside of space time.

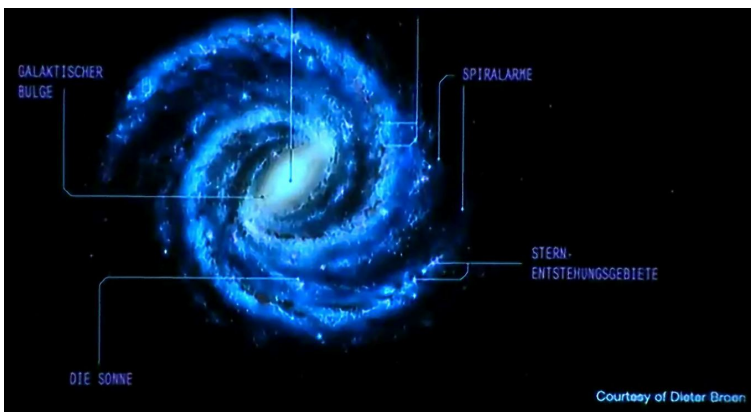

And so it's interesting because there's actual evidence that right now, and this is from a friend of ours back in Europe, his name is Dr. Robert Sarkis Carpathians, he worked at the Max Planck Institute. And he revealed to us that right now, we're being hit since 2019, with an increase in what he calls "maser", or microwave laser beams, which are hitting Earth from the galactic centre. And normally the particles that are coming from the galactic centre, they take billions of years to get here. But because these are subatomic, like these are outside of space time, the connection to us is almost instantaneous.

And there's one particular frequency, which is being picked up in greater amounts, and that frequency is 150 megahertz. And that's an interesting frequency, because that's the same frequency that our pineal gland also resonates with.

And that's the same frequency that the actual 150 megahertz relates to our human DNA. And so, you know, it's interesting when you ask yourself, how we ended up in this place that were lined up, where we are right now.

In fact, this here, this diagram, which I wish it was bigger, but it basically shows that essentially, we're in between these, you know, where there's a darker area, it means there's less interference, and the planet goes through these 10 to 13,000 year cycles, where they go above the plane, the galactic plane and below the galactic plane. And right now, we seem to have, by fluke or coincidence, landed in the sweet spot, to be getting this information.

Solar Cycles

34. The DCTP suggests that the natural stargates may accommodate and support spiritual evolutionary changes and transformation for human consciousness, and will additionally produce material effects on the electromagnetic environment of the sun and our planet.

And, you know, it's interesting in paragraph 34, of the DCTP, it say this. "The DCTP suggests that the natural stargates that may accommodate and support spiritual evolutionary changes and transformation for human consciousness, will additionally produce material effects on the electromagnetic environment of the sun, and our planet."

[Textual: 34. The DCTP suggests that the natural stargates may accommodate and support spiritual evolutionary changes and transformation for human consciousness, and will additionally produce material effects on the electromagnetic environment of the sun and our planet.]

So this is exactly what's going on right now, by coincidence. You know, it just so happens that right now you're looking, this is a picture of the last three solar cycles. And right now we're in what's called a "major solar minimum", which is affecting the magnetic pole, the magnetic north pole.

And the way these rays, these cosmic rays are getting to us when the sun's activity goes down. The heliosphere of the Sun, which is the protective envelope, which shields us from kinds of radiations coming from the centre of the galaxy also goes down, which means that more of that information or more of that energy is penetrating through to us than ever before. Our brain is affected by this. So it's like, we're being involuntarily rewired.

And maybe that's the hope for us. So we don't all have to meditate our way to enlightenment.

So, you know, basically, it just seems to be that by sheer coincidence, everything in the cosmos seems to have been lined up, like some magical orchestra where all the little players are put in position, and then boom.

The Pineal Gland and the Schumann Frequency

You know, so it's interesting how we have also biology, which coincides with using these information flows coming from the universe.

One part of our biology is specifically designed to initiate profound changes in consciousness. And you know, since our bodies function essentially on the basis of chemical reactions within our bodies, this particular gland triggers states of emotion and states of consciousness, and as I showed earlier, emotion creates reality. And that particular part of our brain is called the pineal gland.

And the pineal gland is connected to what's called the Schumann frequencies which are these magnetic belts, these magnetic bands around our planet. And the pineal gland is actually the first organ in the brain that is developed in the foetus, that's at seven weeks. It's almost as if that gets mature, it's like a cell phone logging into the cell tower, the cell tower being the Schumann frequencies.

So it starts to download information that eventually becomes us. And the frequency at which the pineal gland resonates is eight Hertz, which is the same by coincidence as the Schumann frequencies. So simple math shows us that when two objects begin resonating together, at the same frequency, they enter into coherence. And this is where the transfer of information comes in. And this frequency of eight Hertz is also considered magical by American scientists, Dr. Andrija Puharich, who says that this frequency has the unique ability, by coincidence, to penetrate through physical matter, meaning that it's not subjected to the constraints of space and time.

[Text: Dr. Andrija Puharich was able to deduce that a frequency of 8 Hz is able to penetrate any physical and energetic barrier. He thus believes 8 Hz represents a "multidimensional property" which is not subject to the constraints of space-time. © 2020 Dieter Boers NOW Online-Seminar.]

Pineal gland as our link with quantum space?

So could the pineal gland be the part of our brain that connects us to the fifth dimension, to this new dimension, this new world that we're talking about, to this scalar wave carriers of information? It's also interesting to think of the fact that the pineal gland is what is it called "the third eye". I mean, even though it's not here, because people always say the third eye is here, it's actually right in the centre of our brain.

Another interesting fact about it is that it's sitting in the cavity of your brain that's got room around it like a hollow space. And that's actually unusual. Usually, every single sec, every little millimetre of our brains is filled, everything is exactly thought of. And you ask yourself, Well, why would it leave space around the pineal gland? Will the pineal gland get bigger? And what is it with the calcification of the pineal gland? It's like our society, again, is doing everything it can to introduce things like calcium, which is a major blocker of the pineal glands function. Fluoride as well.

And our friend in German biophysics describes it as follows: "From ancient traditions, we can learn that this unique organ represents a connection between our earthly existence and our immortal core of being, from these traditions. We also learned that it offers us the possibility to perceive our world unadulterated and thus to recognise every kind of manipulation and lies."

This ties right in again, and to the Doctrine of Conversion Timeline Paradox, what the J Rods were telling us. So you know, it turns out that this activation corresponds to the connection between us as physical bodies in the information field, stored within the Earth's magnetic field.

And I wanted to show you a couple of interesting quotes that came from a document called "The 33 Arks of Soul Resonance"<sup>3</sup>. Here's another confirming source of information, another substantiation, I should say. Let's just say and it says, "Of course, not everything is predetermined. There are chaotic factors that are left to free will. Some hyperdimensional forces aware of the coming shift are banking on the suppression of mass frequencies that lead humanity into a likely future where these forces harvest maximum energy and maintain control, whether in this density or the next, this can include everything from mass loss of life, to genetic assimilation, and spiritual enslavement."

Frequency Anchors:

"To some extent, this has already happened, and the world as we know it today is the end result of the recent revision of the timeline.

And yet, time marches on and the "final" future is still open.

This brings us to what we can do as individuals.

The wiser sources say we should just be ourselves, remember who we are and radiate the essence of our soul. In fact we are all frequency anchors."

And it's interesting because the source of this document goes back to the 1990s. Again, we have seemingly a data dump that took place about 30 years ago. And it corresponds all of it like the same source of information was coming, the same kind of information was coming from various sources. And the idea that we are literally, "frequency anchors" means that we anchor through our frequency of awareness. Going back to the Hawkins scale, at the very beginning, the more we nurture those frequencies of thought, translating into actions, we actually can, with a very small number of us beginning to anchor in this new earth, this new ideology and give it a fertile ground to stay alive, at least to maintain its presence here.

Solutions

And here are a few powerful words on the subject of "solution". Because we always talk about how are we gonna solve these problems? And I think they're very, very powerful.

[Text: The solution is not something any one can give you; it is no solution that can happen due to the efforts of the few, and it is not a fix-all for everyone. It is based solely on each and every individual deciding that he no longer desires to be ruled over and a slave. The responsibility falls directly on each of us, and if enough come to this conclusion, this tyranny would end quickly. Enough people standing on their own two feet and saying 'no' regardless of risk is our only chance.]

They say, "The solution is not something anyone can give you. It is no solution that can happen due to the efforts of the few and it is not a fix-all for everyone. And if enough of us come to this conclusion, any tyranny would end quickly. Enough people standing on their own two feet and saying no, regardless of the risk, is our only chance."

You know, we can't wait for some leaders to come and solve the problem for us. It was going to lead us to the same pyramid structure, someone seems to have a solution. We have to find it within ourselves to make the change on a very fundamental level.

"In order to gain real freedom, you have to want it badly enough to do whatever it takes to gain enough self-respect to understand the importance of your life. No one can 'give' you freedom, you have to demand it unconditionally. You have to rebel within yourself, and not rely on any other to give you something that they have no power to give. This is an individual struggle, based on the cooperation of many who desire the same thing. It is not and cannot be accomplished by hiding in the crowd, cowering in fear, expecting others to give you an impossible easy solution, and avoiding the pain of becoming free. You, each of you, has to decide for yourself."

Yeah. So, you know, we create our timeline with our emotions. And you know that you have to know what you want, and who you are.

And the idea of us as being creative beings, means that we really have the ability to create reality from within ourselves, but it has to start here, we can't have anybody come and save us, it's just going to lead us to the same saviour complex over and over again. So we have to stop giving them our energy, unconsciously.

Meaning that I hope some of the things that I showed you here tonight give you a view as to what to look out for, to avoid the pitfalls.

You know, we have to begin to feel the powerful emotion of joy in our creative abilities, and direct them toward our own vision have a timeline of a positive timeline, think about what that timeline might look like in the future? How would you see that? You know, what kind of things would you see in that timeline. And if you fix on those, we now know, we're "frequency anchors". So we anchor those things, give it a chance, we give that plant a chance to grow and crowd out this transhumanist plan. And that's it, ladies and gentlemen, how we fix it.

There is one more thing I want to give you to take home on your way, and has to do with a presentation that a woman that we know called Giuliana Conforto<sup>4</sup> gave a few years back in Munich, she blew the audience away. She presented new scientific data and imaging technology that enabled the researchers to peer into the extreme ultraviolet spectrum. And when they did, they captured a new image of Earth never seen before. And what they discovered was pretty amazing.

That's what it is. What you see in the black circle in the middle is the actual Earth in the optical frequencies. And what they've captured in this appears to be some kind of a New Earth forming, that's four to five times the size of Earth and seems to be free from the influence of gravity and time.

So what do you think, folks? Could this be the new timeline, the New Earth that we're looking for and the Ultimate? Yeah.

Well, thank you very much.
